Optimist Village

As third generation home builders, the Rinaldi family continues a family tradition passed down by their father, and grandfather Osvaldo, who was a master furniture maker in his native Italy, and began his construction business in Niagara as a carpenter, in 1950. Over the next half century, Rinaldi Homes has become known as one of the original family homebuilders in Niagara.

Today, their skills and experience are evident in every new home community they build. Attention to detail, excellent customer service, and a passion for homebuilding, are the cornerstones of Rinaldi Homes' success, and the reasons they proudly put their family's name on every home they build.

Building a family tradition since 1955
